About The Role

Purpose of the role

This role is for a Registered Psychologist, with at least 12 months experience working with people who display behaviours of concern and/or require psychological therapy. The caseload is varied, encompassing both paediatric and adult populations. Your psychology experience may be through private practice; working in family & community health or hospital settings. The successful candidate will experience:

- Working with a diverse multi-disciplinary team (i.e. Occupational Therapy, Speech Pathology, Physiotherapy, Medical).
- Working with diverse populations and needs.
- Outreach opportunities (i.e. Indigenous populations).
- Developing professional relationships and fostering meaningful relationships within the local community and surrounding regions.
- Access to internal and external professional development and training opportunities.
- Offers the flexibility to tailor the scope of practice and manage diverse workloads effectively.

The Allied Health team within Thrive Medical works collaboratively to deliver high-quality healthcare services. By working together, the allied health team enhances the overall patient/client experience, improves outcomes, and contributes significantly to the success and reputation of Thrive Medical.

Our diverse skill set, and specialised expertise complement each other, allowing for a holistic approach to patient management. Our dedication, teamwork, and commitment to excellence are integral to maintaining the practice's standards of care and meeting the diverse needs of our patients.

Note:

This position description is not a duty statement; it is only intended to provide an outline of the key responsibilities of the position. Employees are expected to carry out any duties, within the scope of their ability, that are necessary to fulfil the position objectives. It is expected that this position description will change over time due to the nature of Thrive Medical's activities. A flexible attitude to change is expected of staff. Any proposed changes will be discussed with you.

Responsibilities and Duties

Ideal for a dedicated and passionate Registered Psychologist, this role involves undertaking psychological assessments, functional behaviour assessments and other standardised assessments to develop and report on individualised support interventions and plans.

In this role you will maintain professional standard case notes and uphold all required legal and ethical standards as outlined by the relevant registration bodies and legislation policies applicable to registered allied health providers. You will deliver 1:1, family and group therapy sessions using evidence-based psychological and counselling principles and frameworks. You will also monitor, review and evaluate services/interventions and work as part of a multi-disciplinary team (i.e. health professionals, teachers, parents/carers) to provide holistic and evidence-based care.

You will also work alongside key stakeholders to develop, implement and review support strategies for individuals displaying behaviours of concern.

The role includes a range of important tasks, including conducting thorough assessments, managing schedules efficiently, and writing detailed reports with recommendations for therapy or other support. They will also lead treatment sessions, especially for children and young people, and create programs to help families and schools use effective strategies.

Additional, key day-to-day activities include:

- Providing high-quality, evidence-based psychology services with measurable outcomes, using comprehensive assessments, diagnoses, and person-centred management approaches.
- Conducting assessments, planning interventions, delivering therapy, and continuously evaluating and improve psychology services.
- Collaborating effectively with stakeholders involved in patient care, including families, carers, and external agencies and service providers.
- Demonstrating a proactive commitment to continuous learning and improving service delivery.
- Working seamlessly as part of a multidisciplinary team.
- Organising and pre-emptively managing workload to meet performance targets.
- Taking ownership and demonstrating passion for building one's caseload autonomously.
